To whom it may concern,

I write this short email to express my support for the upcoming Forestry Bill 2020.

The livelihoods of friends & family, along with thousands others employed within the industry, are entirely dependant on it. Furthermore the knock-on effect is threatening the supply of a vital house building material as well as many more jobs in construction if the supply dries up. For Ireland to import a material that we already produce would be ludicrous.

Regards,
